* Comment. In order to conserve fuel, the Soviet Zone Directorate General, Railroads, states in advance for every month, the allocations of coal to be consumed daily in the individual railroad districts. Coal consumed beyond the fixed quotas has to be explained in the daily operations reports of the regional railroad headquarters. On the average, 18,320 metric tons of coal were consumed by locomotives in June 1950 and 19,400 metric tons in April 1950.
